

Shaping Ecologies of Care

Use these questions to help gather information, and then evaluate the groups, agencies, therapists, or programs you want to partner with in caring for survivors and communities of faith.

Contact Name:

Organization:

Location/Website:

Services and Resources offered:

Insurance, Fees and Scales:

Other notes:

Rubric for Evaluating this Source of Care

	Not a fit	Maybe a fit	Possible but not complete fit	Exactly the best fit	Notes:
Professional credentials
Code(s) of Ethical Values
Embedded theology – organization or individual
Therapeutic or healing approach and modalities
Level of safety
Level of affordability
Years of experience
Online ratings
Personal recommendations

Professionals to consider in the ecology of care you are collecting and gathering:

Medical doctors
Lawyers
Therapists and counselors
Social workers
Nurses and community health providers
Sexuality educators
Housing specialists / advocates for people without homes
Shelters
 Domestic violence
 Homelessness – Day and Night shelters
Helping Agencies
 Food
 Clothing
 Heat
 Rent
CPA/tax attorney/preparers
Addiction recovery counselors
12 step groups
Community hotlines
Hospital chaplains
Seminary/university professors and chaplains
Ministers and religious leaders from various traditions
Funeral home/directors
Fire and police chaplains
Bail/bonds
Healthcare advocates
Fertility specialists
Lobbyists
Local and state government representatives
Hospice care facilities
Midwives and Doulas